AMOUR RIVER PRIVET
(LIGUSTRUM AMURENSIS)
THE ONE HARDY PRIVET

AURORA GROWN MEANS
WELL GROWN

Grown Right—Dug Right—Packed Right

The above constitutes the three essentials of the Nursery business, and while we do not claim to have attained unto perfection, we do claim that we have mastered all the important details in these three essentials.

Ever since the present management assumed control of The Aurora Nurseries we have been constantly and conscientiously endeavoring to reach a point in the production of nursery stock that would enable us to adopt the above phrase as our trade slogan. We are now nailing it to the mast, and are able to assure the trade that they can place their orders with us with the full confidence that the stock we ship will be in accordance with the above conditions.

We are not trying to grow everything in the nursery line; the things we are growing, however, are the best that we can produce under very favorable conditions. We invite nurserymen to visit us and see for themselves how we grow, dig and pack. If it is impossible for you to make a visit to our nurseries, the next best way to convince yourself is to send us an order. Either one of these methods of investigating our stock would convince you that we make no idle boast when we say that

Amoor River Privet

This Privet is the true hardy variety. It has proven itself to be hardy in our latitude. This Privet most nearly resembles the California Privet in its habit of growth. It is upright, the leaves are shiny green, it makes a dignified hedge which can be trimmed into any shape or form desired. We recommend the Amoor River Privet as the best hedge plant for all sections where winters are severe. In every way as good as California Privet and far more hardy.

We are large growers of this plant, and would suggest that it is best to buy them direct from the growers. See illustration on cover.

Showing the difference between a poor bush and a good one.

Spirea Van Houttei

We grow bushy plants and plenty of them, and while our prices are a little higher than that which is asked by the average grower, you will be much pleased for the reason that Aurora Spiraeas are almost perfection itself.

Spiraea Van Houttei.
